

Suggestion for a New Game

New game to promote the childhood development

Osaka Prefectural Toyonaka High School

In recent years, smartphones and other electronic devices have rapidly prevailed, and we can no longer live without them. Along with this situation, some parents use a smartphone as a tool of children-rearing to show their children videos or let them play games on it. Therefore, we would like to contribute to the mental and physical development of children by suggesting a new game instead of smartphones.

1 Background

Notes on the development of 4 and 5-year-old children

4-year-old children

They develop more remarkably than a 3 years old.

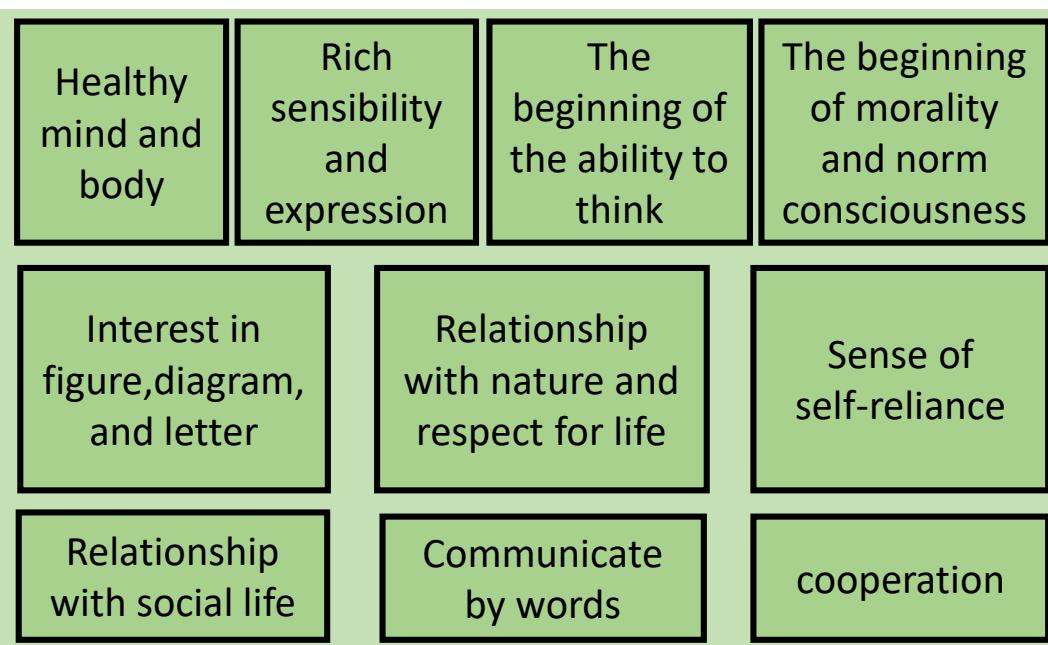

5-year-old children

The stage that they acquire social skills upon entering school.

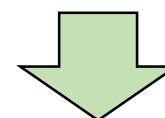

What are the best new games to enjoy at home without using a smartphone?

2 Hypothesis

The game based on the ten desirable features children should acquire by the end of childhood.

- healthy mind and body
- rich sensibility and expression
- relationship with nature and respect for life

Suggestion : new game satisfying these items

3 Next steps

Items to think

- 1 Considering the present circumstances
 - parents' finance
 - parents' time management
 - unavoidable situations
- 2 Considering the points of view of parents

The specific contents of the game ex)creating a collage in line with the theme.

The way to spread our game

ex)make the booklets