

The Power in the Picture Book! -Hand to Hand, Japan and Cambodia-

Wakayama Shin-ai Junior and Senior High School

Our theme

Let Children Know the World Through Picture Books

Introduction

The Effect of Picture Books

Enhance children's linguistic ability and concentration

Make children's mind stable

The contents can cover all the goals of SDGs

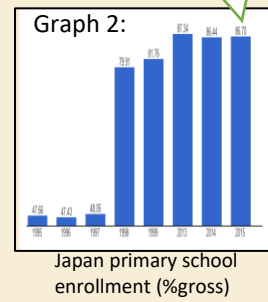

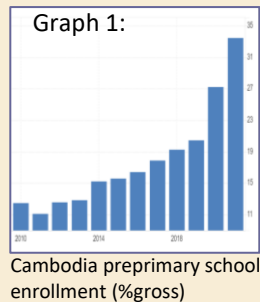

The percentage of enrollment in Japan is about 6 times larger than that of Cambodia in 2015!

However...

In developing countries...

- Don't have habit of reading picture books
↳ The price of picture books are EXPENSIVE
- Lack of picture books
↳ The number of children enrolled in preprimary is LOW

We want to deliver picture books in Cambodia

We think...

picture books can instill the importance of a sustainable world in children permanently

The Picture Books We Chose

Book ①

Can learn the importance of cooperating with others

Book ②

Can learn the importance of protecting the beauty of nature

Book ③

Can learn the importance of promoting town development

*We received to translate and to deliver to Cambodia from the copyright publishing company

Makes children learn about SDGs indirectly with reading picture books from early childhood

Action

STEP 01

Translate picture books into English and Khmer

STEP 02

Stick an adhesive label with printed translation directly over the words

STEP 03

Deliver picture books to Cambodia

STEP 04

See the reactions and listen to the opinions from children

Conclusion

We translated picture books into English and Khmer and when we visit Cambodia next week, we plan to deliver them. We hope this will be a small step to children in the world. Also, we are thinking of students who will participate in Cambodia field trip from next year to continue the activities of delivering picture books. Eventually, we hope to expand our project and make contact with the young Sisters of the Jesuits in other countries to take picture books to there as well.
